What is this product?

Type

OTC - Interest Rate Swap

Term

The term of the Interest Rate Swap depends on the period for which you wish to exchange your interest payments with Danske Bank and is agreed on before you enter into the Interest Rate Swap. The Interest Rate Swap is a bilateral agreement that cannot be ordinarily terminated unilaterally neither by you nor by Danske Bank.

Objectives

The objective of this product is to periodically exchange fixed for floating interest rate payments or vice versa from the start date until the end date. You can agree to either (i) receive cash flows linked to a floating interest rate in return for making a fixed payment for a fixed term or (ii) receive a fixed rate in return for making a payment linked to the floating interest rate.

The product achieves its objective by [1] Danske Bank agreeing the terms of the Interest Rate Swap with you; [2] you agreeing to pay or receive the fixed or floating rate to/from Danske Bank. Payments are determined according to the notional amount agreed on for each interest rate period and paid on pre-agreed dates.

The following typically applies:

If the floating interest rate amount is higher than the fixed interest rate amount, the party paying the fixed amount receives the difference between the two from the other party.

If the floating interest rate amount is lower than the fixed interest rate amount, the party paying the fixed amount pays the difference between the two to the other party.

Note that if an interest rate is negative, the party receiving/paying the corresponding interest rate amount instead pays/receives that amount. In other words, the cash flow is reversed.

The terms set out below are illustrative of the terms of an Interest Rate Swap, but are not the exact terms you agree with Danske Bank. The exact terms are set out in each individual trade confirmation letter.

The illustrative terms are used for subsequent performance scenarios and calculation of costs.

The product terms provide that if certain exceptional events occur [1] Danske Bank may adjust the product; and/or [2] Danske Bank or you may terminate the product early. The exceptional events in question are specified in the product terms and relate principally to the underlying interest rate, the product and conditions pertaining to you or Danske Bank. The return (if any) you receive on such early termination is likely to be different from that received in the scenarios described above.

Start Date:	Today
End Date:	Today + 10 years
You pay:	Fixed rate, 30/360 annually
You receive:	Euribor 6 months

Currency:	EUR
Notional:	10,000.00

Intended retail investor

This product is intended for retail investors who wish to hedge interest rate risk on the basis of the assumption that if they are the party paying the fixed amount, the floating interest rate will rise during the term of the Interest Rate Swap.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 7 out of 7, which is the highest risk class. This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment. If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

Performance Scenarios

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

What you will get from this product depends on future market performance. Market developments in the future are uncertain and cannot be accurately predicted.

The scenarios shown are illustrations based on results from the past and on certain assumptions. Markets could develop very differently in the future.

The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances.

The favorable, moderate and unfavorable scenarios have been calculated using a model to generate possible future outcomes based on the underlying assets' past performance and represent the 90th, 50th and 10th best outcomes, respectively. The stress scenario represents an outcome based on stressed market conditions.

What happens if Danske Bank is unable to pay out?

The product is not protected by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme or any other investor compensation or guarantee scheme. This means that if Danske Bank is unable to pay out, you may lose all of your expected payments.

What are the costs?

The person advising on or selling you this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs and how they affect your investment.

Cost over time

The tables show the amounts that are taken from your investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on how much you invest, how long you hold the product. The amounts shown here are illustrations based on an example investment amount and different possible investment periods.

We have assumed:

- In the first year you would get back the amount that you invested (0% annual return). For the other holding periods we have assumed the product performs as shown in the moderate scenario.

- EUR 10,000.00 is invested

	If you exit after 1 year	If you exit after 5 years	If you exit after recommended holding period
Total costs	EUR 41.96	EUR 41.96	EUR 41.96
Annual cost impact [*] []	0.42%	0.08%	0.04%

[*] This illustrates how costs reduce your return each year over the holding period. For example, it shows that if you exit at the recommended holding period your average return per year is projected to be 1.84% before costs and 1.80% after costs.

[] This illustrates costs in relation to the notional value of the PRIIP.

We may share part of the costs with the person selling you the product to cover the services they provide to you. They will inform you of the amount.
