OTC - Cap

Objectives

The objective of this product is to:

Have the right (if you buy the product and pay a premium) or be bound (if you sell the product and receive a premium) to receive/to pay the difference between the floating rate and the Cap strike if the floating rate index on a given fixing date is higher than the strike rate.

The product achieves its objective by (1) Danske Bank agreeing the terms of the Cap with you; (2) you agreeing to pay or receive a fixed premium to/from Danske Bank.

The following typically applies:

- If the floating interest rate is higher than the strike rate, the party buying the Cap receives the difference between the floating rate and the strike rate.
- If the floating interest rate equals or is lower than the strike rate, the party selling the Cap makes no payment.

The terms set out below are illustrative of the terms of an interest rate Cap, but are not the exact terms you agree with Danske Bank. The exact terms are set out in each individual trade confirmation letter.

The illustrative terms are used for subsequent performance scenarios and calculation of costs.

The product terms provide that if certain exceptional events occur (1) Danske Bank may adjust the product; and/or (2) Danske Bank or you may terminate the product early. The exceptional events in question are specified in the product terms and relate principally to the underlying, the product and conditions pertaining to you or Danske Bank. The return (if any) you receive on such early termination is likely to be different from that received in the scenarios described above.

The term of the Interest Rate Cap depends on the period for which you wish to hedge your interest payments with Danske Bank or accept to be exposed to rising rates if you sell the product. The term is agreed on before you enter into the Interest Rate Cap. The Interest Rate Cap is a bilateral agreement that cannot be ordinarily terminated unilaterally neither by you nor by Danske Bank.

The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the investment/product. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you. The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.
