OTC - Participating Forward Seller

Objectives

The objective of this product is to agree to exchange an agreed amount in one currency for a variable amount in another currency, with the exchanged amount depending on the spot rate in the spot market at the expiration time at a fixed (worst-case) exchange rate. The strike rate is a less favorable exchange rate than the rate in an ordinary foreign exchange agreement with delivery on the same settlement date. In exchange for the less favorable exchange rate, you agree to be protected for the notional amount but only committed for the participation notional amount.

Participating Forwards are binding agreements to sell a variable amount in a specific currency at the time the agreement is entered into (the notional amount/participation notional amount) at a fixed price (the strike rate) and on a specific time (the expiration time) to be agreed upon between the buyer and the seller.

At the time of expiration, the following scenarios apply:

Market spot rate at or below the strike rate: The investor has a right, but not an obligation, to sell the notional amount at the strike rate.

Market spot rate above the strike rate: The investor has an obligation to sell the participation notional amount at the strike rate.

The terms set out below are illustrative of the terms of a Participating Forward, but are not the exact terms you agree with Danske Bank. The exact terms will be set out in each individual trade confirmation.

The illustrative terms are used for subsequent performance scenarios and calculation of costs.

The product terms provide that if certain exceptional events occur (1) Danske Bank may adjust the product and/or (2) Danske Bank or you may terminate the product early. These exceptional events in question are specified in the product terms and relate principally to the underlying, the product and conditions pertaining to you or Danske Bank. The return (if any) you receive on such early termination is likely to be different from that received in the scenarios described above.

Expiration time:	6 months
Strike rate:	1.1069
Notional amount	10,000.00

Currency pair:	EUR/USD

Intended retail investor

This product is intended for retail investors who

- (I) wish to hold a Participating Forward for the agreed-upon term and do not want to sell it back prematurely and
- (II) are in the position to bear losses that may be unlimited

Term

The length of a Participating Forward will depend on how long you wish to have the right to exchange the currency. The term will be agreed on before you enter into a Participating Forward. A Participating Forward is a bilateral agreement that cannot be ordinarily terminated unilaterally by either you or Danske Bank.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 7 out of 7, which is the highest risk class. Be aware of currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above. This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment. If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

This table shows the money you could get back over the next 6 months, under different scenarios, assuming that you invest EUR 10,000.00. The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the investment/product. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you.

This product cannot be easily cashed in. This means it is difficult to estimate how much you would get back if you cash in before maturity. You will either be unable to cash in early or you will have to pay high costs or make a large loss if you do so.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself and includes the costs of your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

What happens if Danske Bank is unable to pay out?

The product is not protected by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme or any other investor compensation or guarantee scheme. This means that if Danske Bank is unable to pay out, you may lose all of your expected payments.

What are the costs?

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the investment return you might get. The total costs take into account one-off, ongoing and incidental costs.

The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself. They include potential early exit penalties. The figures assume you invest EUR 10,000.00. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.

Cost over time

The person selling you or advising you about this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs, and show you the impact that all costs will have on your investment over time.

How long should I hold it and can I take money out early?

This product is designed to be held until its maturity date and it is not a product which can be easily sold or transferred. Early termination may occur in the event of a default or disruption situation or if you or Danske Bank agree for it to be terminated early, in which case, early exit penalties may apply.
